'Rivals' Play Opens Friday On Campus

From London's Covent Garden Theatre in 1775 to SJS' College Theatre in 1966 comes "The Rivals" by Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

The play will open Friday, at 8:15 p.m., as the fourth production of the Drama Department's current season. Repeat performances will be given Saturday and next Wednesday through Saturday, April 20-23, also at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at College Theatre Box Office, Speech and Drama Building, from 1-5 p.m. daily. Prices are 75 cents for students and $1.50 for general admission.

Dr. Harold Crain, professor of drama, directs the 18th-century comedy. Although initially a failure, the play marked the turning point in Sheridan's career at its second performance following revisions and recasting.

Other plays written by Sheridan include "Duenna," a comic opera; "St. Patrick's Day," a two-act farce; "The School for Scandal" and "The Critic," his last important play.

Journalism Grad Wins News Award

Dave Provan, SJS journalism graduate, has received a second place award from the Association of Catholic Newsmen, for a series on homosexuality which appeared in the Daily last semester.

The Tappe award is named in the honor of Monsignor Walter J. Tappe, former editor of the Catholic Monitor.

Provan's series, which also won fifth place in a recent nationwide Hearst Newspaper college contest, discussed the problems of a homosexual and the effects of a homosexual in society.

Provan has been working in the public relations department of General Motors' Fremont plant following his graduation.

DR. HAROLD CRAIN directs Robert Ryan, portraying Faulkland, and Mrs. Susan Hafendorf, enacting Julia, in a scene from Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The Rivals." The play will open Friday at 8:15 p.m. in College Theatre. Repeat performances will be given Saturday night and Wednesday through Saturday, April 20-23, at 8:15. Tickets may be purchased at College Theatre Box Office, Speech and Drama Building. Prices are 75 cents for students and $1.50 for general admission.

Album Give-Away On KSJS Tonight

Listeners will be able to try to win a classical album by identifying a composition played on campus radio station KSJS' "Centuries of the Classics" tonight at 8 according to Stephen Waldee, student program announcer.

"The person who calls 294-6414, exten. 2164 and gives the first complete answer or the best answer of the evening to "Musical Enigma" will receive his choice of record from over 20 albums," Waldee said.

the afternoon of Wednesday, March 30, in a San Jose motel room. The time of death was estimated at sometime that morning. The Santa Clara County Coroner's office reports that the death is still under investigation.

Motel manager Leola Bragg, attempting to check the room, said she saw Koch lying on the bed and called police. Officers used a hacksaw to enter the room.

Jerome E. Zweifel, 30, assistant professor of English, was killed Saturday, April 2, when the car he was driving crashed through a dead-end barricade at 17th Street in San Jose, plunging down an embankment into the path of another car on the Bayshore Freeway.

A passenger, Mrs. Mary Sapsis, assistant professor of English, recently was released from San Jose Hospital.

Investigators report the professors were returning from a meeting for English faculty members.

SJS coed Marietta J. Knight, 25, student teacher, was injured Saturday night when her car went out of control on U.S. Highway 101, 10 miles north of Hollister. She died later in Hazel Hawkins Hospital in Hollister.

8-Point Platform

Jerry Spolter Seeks Top ASB Position

Jerry Spolter, ASB vice president, announced his candidacy for 1966-67 ASB president on a platform of "students first" and "responsible and representative student government," Monday.

"There are two fundamental qualities that I consider a voter should look for in a candidate — first, his background or experience, and secondly, not the promises he makes, but his ability to implement his platform," Spolter stated.

Spolter believes his experience as ASB vice president and Student Council chairman qualifies him for the presidency.

"An individual must be able to step into a position and 'fill it,' not begin to learn it," Spolter said. The 20-year-old Political Science major is running on an eight-point platform calling for student opinion surveys, objective personnel selection, equal-class representation, greater cultural emphasis and investigation of the Spartan Daily.

Spolter's platform also calls for increased scholarships for needy students, campus beautification and student participation in formulation of registration and curriculum policies.

Spolter is a member of the Financial Advisory Board, Student Activities Committee of the Academic Council, College Union Board of Governors, Spartan

Released on Bond

Pair Nabbed at Border

An SJS coed charged with smuggling marijuana and other drugs across the Mexican border was released from San Diego County Jail today on bond. The money reportedly was raised by SJS friends who asked to remain anonymous.

Jean Ellen Zeidler, 22, senior commercial art major from San Francisco, and Jerry Warren Groshart, 23, of 311 N. Second St., San Jose, were arrested Sunday by U.S. Customs agents.

Reportedly the pair became nervous when passing through the border station at San Diego. A search of their station wagon revealed 60 pounds of marijuana and 2,000 pills.

Officers reported that the marijuana was pressed into bricks and hidden behind the door paneling; the pills, amphetamines (bennies) and Secanol (redbird), had been stuffed into plastic containers and hidden in the tire well of the car.

ABOUT $60,000

Customs Agent Thomas Donaldson estimated the value of the operation at about $60,000.

According to Donaldson, Groshart said that he was to return to San Jose and turn the marijuana and pills over to an "unidentified San Jose man." Groshart, reportedly, was to receive a portion of the marijuana as part payment for the trip.

The pair was arraigned Monday before a U.S. Commissioner and charged with smuggling, concealing, transporting and possessing marijuana.

Pat Burnstad, 22-year-old psychology major and friend of Miss Zeidler, claimed that she did not know there was marijuana in the car. "As a citizen of South Africa she could be deported," he noted.

Burnstad hopes to set up a table on Seventh Street and put up posters around campus this week in an effort to raise money to retain a lawyer for Miss Zeidler. Contributions may be made at 101 S. 12th St., 295-7724.

EASILY OBTAINED

Customs Agent George Gore reported to Spartan Daily that marijuana and other drugs are relatively easy to obtain in Mexico. However, he said that there was no way of knowing the amount of narcotics smuggled across the border.

Although Groshart reportedly said that the marijuana and pills were destined for the San Jose area, the Federal Narcotics Bureau in San Francisco told Spartan Daily that it is not conducting an investigation of narcotics trafficking in the San Jose area.

SJS Security office declined to comment on whether or not there is widespread usage of narcotics on campus and on whether or not it is investigating such usage.

If Groshart and Miss Zeidler are found guilty, they face a possible one-to-five-year prison term and/or a fine of $100 to $5,000.

Campus Magazine Sales Start Today

Colorful articles on sports, spring fashions and what SJS' fairest coed thinks of Spartan males are featured in Sparta Life magazine's "new look" which goes on sale today in four campus locations.

Miss San Jose State, Mike Cetinich, is quoted in an article of the current issue as saying she disagrees that the majority of SJS males are "drunken, crude and conceited."

Price is 75 cents and the magazine will be sold in front of the book store and cafeteria, on Seventh Street and on the Journalism Building terrace.

News Briefs

Candidates on Radio

Candidates for ASB president and vice president will air platforms and viewpoints on a series of programs beginning tomorrow, 6:15 p.m. on KSJS.

Meet the Candidates, a series of three 15-minute programs, Thursday-Monday, will be capped by a half-hour special featuring both ASB vice presidential candidates, according to Mike Neufeld, coordinator for the program.

Classic Film

Today's Classic Film "Big Deal on Madonna Street," will be shown in JC55 at 3:30 and 7 p.m. to the college community.

The Italian film stars Marcello Mastroianni, Claudia Cardinale, Vittor Gassman, Toto, Renato Salvatori, Rossana Rory, Carla Gravina and Memmo Carotenuto in a warm, witty spoof on all "scientific" crime movies.

Friday Flick

Friday's Flick "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home," will be shown in JC55 at 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. for a 35 cent admission price.

Shirley MacLaine, Peter Ustinov, Richard Crenna, Jim Backus, Scott Brady, and Fred Clark are featured in the comedy.

Voter Registration

The ASB Community Service Committee will sponsor a voter registration drive today between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Seventh Street. Committee Chairman Mel Gonsolves said if the weather is bad, the cafeteria will be used.

Justified Existence?

Abolishment of political parties on campus has caused a great deal of controversy in student circles in the past few weeks.

The principle argument for abolishment of parties is to give the individual a better chance to win his campaign without going up against a political machine.

This was a noteworthy idea but the Student Council turned down a moratorium and instead approved a ridiculous move to permit political parties to organize but not to endorse candidates.

The alleged reasoning behind this move was to avoid infringing upon the rights of a group to organize.

Since parties are allowed to organize but not endorse candidates, what function remains to justify their existence?

One horrifying possibility is that parties, instead of endorsing candidates, may turn all their efforts toward attacking opponents of the candidates they are, in actuality, backing.

Such a move would result in a proliferation of election abuses. The individual would still have to go up against a political organization but would not be able to defend himself effectively from personal attacks.

He would have to fight an impersonal organization which, on the surface, has nothing to gain or lose in the election.

Unrest Traced to 'Mossback Attitudes'

Dean Gilbaugh's recently aired opinions on the educational system have brought into the open some important issues that have needed examination for some time. There has been a lack of consensus regarding the relative roles professors, students and administrative officers. While we thank the Dean for bringing these issues to light, we must take the occasion to disagree with him on a number of points.

The Dean has, for one thing, criticized the employment of faculty members who engage in publication and research to the detriment of their teaching effectiveness. While we agree that faculty should be engaged primarily to teach, we also recognize that the university system is one of the very few places in our society where pure research and abstract intellectual endeavor are "marketable items." To discontinue the support of such activities would be to seriously wound our major source of non-commercial creativity.

IDLE ACCUSATION

To claim that faculty agitation lies behind student unrest, as Dean Gilbaugh does, is to make an idle accusation against the integrity of professor and student alike. We could hardly recommend that any professor close his eyes to the facts as he sees them, whether or not Dean Gilbaugh would prefer a more passive type of student. We see the role of the professor as being more than "transmitting the culture to oncoming generations." Furthermore, we suspect that much student unrest can be traced not so much to faculty agitation as to the mossback attitudes.

Dean Gilbaugh claims that the community of scholars concept is a fraud. We could not agree more heartily. But we believe that one of the greatest factors making this ideal a fraud has been control of the general academic community by sub-administrators who all too frequently have dedicated themselves to defending mediocrity against the abnormality of academic and intellectual achievement.

SPIRIT OF ANARCHY

If, as Dean Gilbaugh says, a spirit of anarchy runs close beneath the surface of some faculties, we observe that a spirit of jealous anti-intellectualism seems to calculated a professor's services. He wrote that "During his 8-week stay at SJS, Fuller delivered 210 hours of formal lectures; the equivalent to an average college professor's academic load in a four year period."

According to my arithmetic at SJS, a professor has 12 hours of lecture a week and 30 weeks or 360 lecture hours a year. Four years would mean 1,440 hours.

Mr. Fuller's service was great enough to need no exaggeration. Even if he said the same things to different groups, Mr. Fuller exceeded union standards for work load. Who else can we get who will work as he did? Whoever said that genius is one-tenth inspiration and nine-tenths perspiration, must have been privileged to know R. Buckminster Fuller, Honorary Ph.D. 9 plus X.

Editor:

I'm sure I convey the feelings of all the members of the SJS Gymnastics team in thanking the Spartan Daily for its excellent coverage and publicity of the 1965-66 Gymnastics season.

Few teams are fortunate enough to have such backing. The Daily has certainly done its part. Now it's up to the students to do their part in supporting the team, but I would like to thank those students who did turn out for our meets. It was greatly appreciated.

Desert Offers 'Fun, Profit'

By PAT HEFFERNAN

While you all spent vacation surfing, skiing, studying (?) and renewing relations with Old Flames back home, this columnist was running around Death Valley collecting rocks and bugs and lizards and a unit of science that he needs about like another editor.

The trip was Field Studies in Natural Science, and it was some trip. Two hundred of us, of all sexes, assembled in an abandoned mining camp along with a clutch of confused but good-natured pros and a swell gal and organizer, Mrs. Ellis of the Natural Sciences department.

Sleeping bags unrolled on the cement floors, a student-cooked dinner of undetermined ingredients—some of which were edible—and sixth or seventh reading of THE RULES (would you believe a week in Death Valley with no booze) and we were all set to learn the desert for fun and profit.

BREAK SLUMBER

The week began next morning at 6. Since there were no alarm clocks, one of our leaders—there were so many—kicked a trash can lid down on the concrete floors of the barracks' halls and pounded on the doors to gently break our slumbers.

After Monday morning I ignored the girls walking past the wire-screen walls of the barracks and waving while I dressed. I never did really get used to the same girls waving at me from the road above our TWO "topless" outhouses before they laughingly tossed rocks in. That was almost as disconcerting as breakfast with hotcakes that had to be cut with a steak knife (student cooked, of course).

The field trips made up for these little inconveniences, however.

We walked five miles with Associate Prof. Ron Stecker to see mosquito larvae and then spent the afternoon hunting for doodle-bug holes (no luck). We made friends with Dr. Arnold Applegar's side-winder, and learned the difference between a pan-fan and an alluvial fan from Dr. Wayne Karchner. With Dr. Tom Harvey we counted the number of flowers in an acre (one million, VERY roughly), and sat beneath a female palm tree to learn that man may face starvation if he doesn't limit his population somehow. (There's something for the Health Service to ponder).

BURNS GREEN

We sat in a borax-boiling vat to hear Dr. Marshall "Madrocks" Maddox repeat the stirring lines of the first borax discoverers, "She burns green, Rosie; we're rich!"

I know it sounds crazier than a geologist who's been in the desert sun for six hours, but it was a wonderful experience. Besides learning the desert and man's place in nature (out of place, as I thought), I made some great friends—especially the guy who bunked next to me ... Bill Harm ... (a spy perhaps?).

The only cloud in these silver linings was that my wife couldn't go. You can imagine my feelings when I returned home Saturday night and found her waiting for me ... with the measles.

Professor Appointed Fulbright Lecturer

Dr. Margaret Clark, assistant professor of secondary education, has been awarded a Fulbright lectureship and will leave in June for Singapore, Malaysia.

Past vice president of Abraham Lincoln High School in San Jose, Dr. Clark has taught at SJS for two years.

She received her B.A. and Master's degree from Iowa State, majoring in economic history. Dr. Clark obtained her doctorate in educational psychology from Stanford.

Dr. Clark served three years in the United States Coast Guard during World War II. She is now ranked commander in the reserves.

"The only traveling I've done previously was as a tourist in Europe once and several trips to Mexico," Dr. Clark recalls.

When asked why she applied for the grant, Dr. Clark replied, "One seeks many different experiences as an educator, it is a logical extension."

Dr. Clark leaves Monday for one week of orientation in Washington with the State Department.

During her 10-month stay in

She foresees no language problem as "English is spoken at this level, but I do hope to learn some Chinese," Dr. Clark said.

Use of Dope 'Disaster'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said yesterday that increased use of drugs by California students has "all the aspects of a real disaster."

"We are receiving increasing reports of severe mental injuries resulting from indiscriminate and uncontrolled use" of hallucinatory drugs such as LSD, he said.

He announced plans for a meeting May 10 in Los Angeles for the arrangement of a conference on the subject in the fall with educators, police, psychiatrists and young people.

SJS Coed Selected For Home Ec Institute

Miss Sharon Joan Stebbings, family life major in the Department of Home Economics from Glendale, has been accepted by the Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit, Mich., for fall, 1966.

SJS is affiliated with the Merrill-Palmer Institute. Each year the Department of Home Economics selects second semester juniors or first-semester seniors with an A or B record to attend the Institute.

This school was established 35 years ago for the purpose of home and family life education. At the school a staff adviser assists the student in planning a course of study which will emphasize the individual's personal needs and potentialities.

Classes and discussion groups are small since the ratio of faculty to students is one to two. Students attending the school are a cross-cultural group coming from many foreign lands as well as from all parts of the U.S.

'Revolt of Angels' Scheduled Topic Of Book Talk

Dr. French Simpson, professor of English, will review "The Revolt of the Angels" during today's Faculty Book Talk at 12:30 p.m. in Cafeteria rooms A and B.

The work was published in 1914 and was authored by Anatole France, whom Dr. Simpson describes as a "writer of witty style with great imaginative power, a certain biting irony and a skeptical attitude towards religion in general."

Noting that France used to be considered the leading Frenchman of letters, Dr. Simpson expressed interest in studying why he has ceased to be read and admired.

Translation of the novel concerning a revolution against God by a group of angels in heaven has been done by Mrs. Wilfrid Jackson.

Dr. Simpson, who joined the SJS staff in 1948, received his A.B. and M.A. from Harvard University and his doctorate from Stanford University.

First Song Girl Workshop Tonight

Workshops for song girl tryouts will be held tonight and next Tuesday and Wednesday in the Men's Gym, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Hilary Goldwater, head Spartanette, announced.

"No previous experience is required, since you are taught the routine you will present at the tryouts during the workshops," Miss Goldwater explained.

Positions are available for four regular song girls and two alternates. The requirements are an overall grade average of 2.0 or above and attendance at at least one workshop.

Final selections will be made Tuesday, April 26 in the Men's Gym at 7:30 p.m.

OCS Information

Lt. Col. Carl W. Ivie, professor of military science, will present an orientation on the OCS College Enlistment Option Program, tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in MH324. Seniors will receive information on how they may qualify for a commission as Second Lieutenants in the United States Army.

Pres. Clark, Faculty To Open Homes for Annual 'Fireside'

Several faculty members, including Pres. Robert D. Clark, will open their homes to students this weekend for the annual Faculty Firesides.

The fireside visits, during which students and faculty will have a chance to meet on an informal level, are sponsored this year by three campus groups — United Campus Christian Fellowship, Lutheran Student Association, and the Pilots (Persons Involved in Leadership Orientation Tasks), a group which grew out of Freshman Camp.

Participating faculty members besides Dr. Clark are Dr. John Ballard, professor of political science; Dr. Whitaker Deining, professor of philosophy; David Hatch, associate professor of art; Dr. Theodore Hinckley, associate professor of history; Dr. Charles Larsen, associate professor of mathematics; and Dr. W. Thornton Hooper, assistant professor of psychology.

Students may visit Dr. Clark Sunday night, and the other homes Friday or Saturday night. Sign-ups for the visits will be held today and tomorrow, 8:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m., in front of the cafeteria and bookstore, according to Mark Rutledge, United Campus Christian Ministry pastor. Students may also sign up by calling Rutledge at 298-0204, he said.

There is a limit to how many students may visit each faculty member, so students who wish to visit a certain member should sign up early, Rutledge stressed. Transportation will be arranged by the sponsoring organizations.

Rutledge said he believes the fireside visits bridge the impersonal communication gap often felt between students and professors by encouraging students and faculty to get together for informal conversation.

Cal-Oregon Saturday

Stanford Outruns Tracksters

By PAUL SAVOIA
Spartan Daily Sports Editor

If Dave Deubner made a career of running against SJS, he would be the greatest distance runner in the history of track.

For the second year in a row, Deubner played the major role as his Stanford Indians upset SJS to win the mythical Northern California track championship.

The Spartans have a chance to redeem themselves this weekend when they meet California and defending NCAA co-champion Oregon in Berkeley Saturday.

This was originally scheduled as an Oregon-Cal dual meet, but the Spartans accepted an invitation to fill an open weekend on their schedule.

The score at Stanford two weeks ago was 82 1/2 for the Indians to 62 1/2 for the Spartans. This was considered one of the major upsets of the 1966 track season.

SMITH—45.7

The outstanding mark of the meet, however, was turned in by SJS' Tommy Smith, who burned to the third fastest 440 time in history with a 45.7 clocking.

Only Adolph Plummer's world record 44.9 and Uli Williams' 45.2 have ever bettered Smith's mark.

SJS dug itself into a hole in the first two races that proved too deep to climb out of despite some last-minute heroics by the Spartans.

In the 440-relay, the favored Spartans had three poor baton passes and Larry Questad kept an eight-yard lead on his final leg to preserve a meet-record win in 40.5.

It was Deubner's turn next, and the senior from Orinda responded in the fashion that made him a hero of last year's meet.

Battling favored Joe Neff of SJS in the mile, Deubner forged ahead on the third lap and came home an easy winner in 4:09.1. Neff, complaining that his legs tightened, was dead last in 4:35.5.

STRIKING DISTANCE

Smith, Ken Shackelford and Wayne Hermen led a Spartan comeback from here on, and the Spartans were within striking distance when the next-to-last event, the two mile, came around.

The Spartans were favored in this race and could have won the meet with a first and second here and a win in the meet-concluding mile relay.

However, Deubner was a surprise entrant and ended all SJS hopes with a first place finish. Teammate Bruce Johnson, a relative unknown, came up with a best-of-life performance for second, edging SJS' Rich Klemmer and Jim Sullivan.

In his great 440, Smith ran the first 220 yards in 20.7 and admitted he burned himself out a little too much.

After the meet, Smith explained "I was run out and the world was spinning when I finished. I gave the race everything I had, because I was going for time."

Minutes before this race, he had sailed 24-9 for a first place and meet record in the long jump. He continues to win in the broad jump despite a lack of practice and a takeoff which is generally a foot behind the board.

Questad, rounding into his old form after early-season injuries, won the 100 in 9.6 over Hermen (9.8), with the little Spartan coming back to win the 220 in 21.0. Smith, obviously tired, held back until the stretch and nipped Questad for second. Both were timed in 21.1.

The Spartan comeback effort was continued as Craig Fergus set a meet record with a 50-2 triple jump with SJS' Cornelius Frazier second; Ken Shackelford came from behind to beat Stanford's Bud Walsh by a nose in the 440 intermediate hurdles (53.2) and Ken Noel and Bill Berridge both turned in best-of-life performances to go 1-2 in the 880. Noel was clocked in 1:51.4 and Berridge in 1:53.0.

15 POINTS

Stanford's Bob Stoeker scored his expected double in the shot put (52-7) and discus (178-10) and was a surprise performer and winner in the javelin (221-7 3/4) for 15 big points.

Terry Doe shook off recent illnesses to pace a Spartan sweep in the high jump at 6-9 1/4. A surprise point-winner for the Spartans was Gary Vannatter—an intramural find—who broke up an expected Stanford sweep with a second in the 120 high hurdles.

Stanford provided all the thrills in winning the freshman meet 92-52.

Andy Vollmer won the two mile in 9:21.5 for the Spartababes' best effort.

Intramurals

SOFTBALL

Today is deadline day for fast pitch softball entries to be turned in to the Intramurals Office, MG121. There will also be a team captain's meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in MG201.

The games, which start Monday, April 18, will be played on the south campus field near the varsity baseball diamond, and will begin at 3:45.

Slow pitch softball entries are due in the Intramural Office by Monday, April 18. There will be a team captain's meeting in MG-205 tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., and play starts Thursday, April 21.

A softball officials' clinic will be held tomorrow in MG201 at 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. All men planning to umpire softball games must attend one of the meetings.

BASKETBALL

Just before Easter vacation, on Wednesday, March 30, independent champion Awful-Awfuls wrapped up the all college basketball championship by downing fraternity champion Alpha Tau Omega 47-31.

The Awfuls, led by Mel Tom's 14 points jumped into an early lead and coasted to a successful defense of the title. Other big guns for the winners were Jerry Shaw with 11 counters and Mike Spitzer with 10.

All star Dennis Deichler paced ATO with 11 points, getting five at the foul line.

ATO had won 51-42 the night before behind Jim Pryor's 19 points to set up the final game of the best-of-three series.

Small Takes Fourth In Holiday Tourney

Terry Small's late charge fell short in the final round, but the Spartan golfer still took fourth in the Western Intercollegiate at Pasatiempo last weekend to lead SJS linksters.

Finishing with a four-round 296 total, Small was 10 shots off pace-setting Arne Dokka of Los Angeles State who successfully defended his '65 title.

Ross Randall was the other Spartan in the finals, finishing 12th in the talented field at 303. Dick McClean, a last minute substitute for Don Keffer, "played superbly" according to coach Jerry Vroom and won the first flight.

In team totals, the Spartans finished fifth.

The University of Southern California won team honors with a 584 total for the first two days. Fresno State, L.A. State and Brigham Young, all nationally-ranked powers, also finished ahead of SJS.

RANDALL FIRES 68

Earlier in the week, L.A. topped SJS 18-9. Randall took medalist laurels for Vroom's boomers with a 68, but lost his match to Bill McCormick, who came home in a five-under-par 65.

Keffer took the only match for San Jose with an even-par 70 for a 3-0 win over his opponent.

Ken Slasor and Chris Andrews earned 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 ties. Keffer and Slasor combined for a 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 draw in best ball play. The loss dropped the golfers' season record to 5-2.

TEST HARDING PARK

The swingers hope to add another win tomorrow when they visit Harding Park in San Francisco and tee off against San Francisco State.

Vroom regards the Gators as unknown, but expects his troops to pick up a win.

Making the trip for San Jose will be Small, Randall, Keffer, Andrews, Slasor and Dennis McDonough.

In the Fresno Classic on April 1-2, SJS linksters finished fifth with Small leading the way by firing rounds of 74-73-74 for a 221.

L.A. State took the team title by 19 strokes over the Fort Washington course.

BEST OF LIFE—Bill Berridge ran a best-of-life 1:53.0 to place a surprise second in the 880 for the Spartan trackmen as they rallied after a poor start against Stanford. However, the rally fell short and the Indians gathered an 82 1/2 to 62 1/2 upset win.

Hitting Not Enough For Varsity Batmen

By JOHN JACKSON
Spartan Daily Sports Writer

Good hitting, fair pitching, an adequate defense and four losses. That was the song for Spartan baseballers over Spring vacation as they played good ball, but managed to win only one game in five tries.

Two of the Spartan losses came in the San Diego Marine Corps Tournament where they finished fourth in a strong field of six.

SJS opened the tournament against San Diego State and dropped a 9-6 decision despite out-hitting the winners 10-9.

The two teams played on even terms until the bottom of the seventh inning when San Diego took advantage of wildness by Spartan starter Bill Schmidt and reliever Frank Pangborn to score five runs on four hits to win the game.

HERNANDEZ HOMERS

Trailing 4-1 going into the seventh inning, SJS rallied to tie the game on a three-run blast by second baseman Tony Hernandez.

After San Diego had wrapped up the game in the seventh, the Spartans made it close by rallying for two runs in the eighth on singles by Larry Peters, Charlie Nave, Marty Powell and Hernandez.

Relief pitcher Steve Egge hit one out of the park with two Spartans on base in the seventh inning of SJS' second tournament game to give the Spartans an 8-6 win over Cal Western and their only vacation victory.

Egge, who also plays third base and shortstop for SJS coach Ed Sobczak, was the winning hurler, coming to the aid of Rich Kemmerle in the fifth inning and going the rest of the way in the eighth-inning game, allowing just one run and four hits.

BATTLE BEST

SJS finished the tournament against eventual champion University of Southern California, and gave the nation's No. 1 team a real battle before bowing 12-7.

The Spartans out hit the winners 15-10, but a two-run eighth inning and a four-run ninth proved to be the undoing of SJS starter, finisher and loser Gene Hessler.

Leading the SJS barrage against two USC hurlers were Nave, Peters and first sacker Pat Dugan, each with three hits.

Possibly suffering a let down after the tournament, and their struggle with Southern Cal, the Spartans returned to SJS in time to drop an 8-2 decision to Washington State on Friday, April 8 and a 4-3 game to the University of Portland the following Saturday.

Baseball Season Underway? Not for Football Hopefuls

The baseball season opened yesterday—but don't tell Harry Anderson.

Anderson, who served his first season as head football coach for SJS last fall, started his 1966 hopefuls in spring football training Monday.

Showing the results of the revamped recruiting program under Anderson, 41 junior college transfers are among the 97 hopefuls reporting to the afternoon drills at South Campus.

The main task facing Anderson and his assistants this year is replacing the bulk of the 1965 offense—quarterback Ken Berry and fullback Charley Harraway.

The two accounted for 2,441 of the 2,939 total yards the Spartans racked up in recording a 5-5 season in 1965. Both have used up their eligibility.

Anderson feels the Spartan hopes look "up" this year—literally—as he believes "we should be stronger in our passing attack, our receivers will be bigger and faster and we have three passers who hit for 50 per cent or better last year."

The three passers are Bill Casey—Berry's back-up man last season who hit on 15 of 30 passes—freshman star Russ Munson and junior college transfer Dan Holman.

Munson completed 48 of 86 passes for the Spartababes, while Holman was a junior college All-American at Monterey Peninsula College, where he connected on 87 of 138 tosses.

The leading pass catcher of 1965, Steve Cox, heads the list of receivers, which also includes JC transfers Mike Tompkins and John Crivello, sophomore Eldon Milholland and basketball refugee S. T. Saffold.

Unusual Net Play Highlights SJS Tennis Vacation Duels

Easter break saw some unusual tennis play, but SJS netters came out with a pair of wins and a tie.

Currently sporting a 7-1-1 mark, the Spartans face Santa Clara tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 on the 11th and Humboldt courts expecting to add another win.

Yesterday the racketeers battled Cal State at Hayward, but results were unavailable at press time.

On March 31, the Hayward crew fell 8-1. With the score 8-0, SJS elected not to send the final doubles team out because of illness.

Coach Butch Krikorian expected yesterday's match to have similar results.

DARKNESS FORCES TIE

Redlands tied the Spartans the following afternoon when darkness forced play to a halt after each team had gained a set in the deciding doubles match.

With Gordon Miller and Rodney Kop battling the nationally-ranked Redlands pairing, darkness ended play. The final team score was 4½ to 4½.

San Jose winners were Bob Murio over Dave Ciano, Kop over Bill Schoen and Yit Louie over Bruce Nelson. The doubles team of Murio and Raul Contreras also won.

Doubles matches proved the difference April 8 against Seattle, as Spartan depth wore down the visiting contingent.

DOUBLES WINNERS

After losing the No. 1 and No. 2 matches, Murio, Kop and Louie pulled through with victories.

In the deciding doubles battles, Murio and Contreras scrambled to a 6-3, 6-4 win and Louie and Steve Jones came from behind to win 3-6, 6-0, 6-3 and insure a San Jose victory.

All matches were on the San Jose courts.

Frosh Baseballers Drop Three More

Old Man River just keeps rolling along, and the SJS freshman baseball team just keeps losing.

The Spartababes played another good game Monday, but lost their fourteenth consecutive game of the season, bowing to the Santa Clara freshman nine 9-7.

Santa Clara got to SJS starter Pete Hoskins for six runs in the first three innings and then held on as the Spartababes came back, but not quite far enough.

A four-run SJS seventh made the game close, but Santa Clara was able to weather the storm and defeat the SJS frosh for the third time this season. Key blow in the Spartababes uprising was a double by Hoskins, one of the southpaw's three hits.

The Spartababes left for spring vacation on the same note that they returned, losing both ends of a doubleheader to the Stanford frosh, 7-0 and 6-0.

AAU Finals For Judokas

Undergraduates Paul Mariuyama and Keith Pickard lead a six-man Spartan judo team picked to represent the Pacific Central Coast in the National AAU Judo Championships in New Jersey on April 22 and 23.

Mariuyama, who competed for a position on the 1964 U.S. Olympic squad, will battle in the 154-pound division, while Pickard will compete in the 205-pound class.

Other SJS entrants, all graduate students, will be Yuzo Koga, Bill Knabke, Howard Fish and Makoto Ohbayashi.

The SJS judokas last competed on Sunday, April 3 in the Alameda Invitational at Alameda. In the tournament, which was originally scheduled for April 17, the Spartans had three places.

John Gruel won the white belt division, while Ron Asai finished third in the brown belt division and Bill Gouin took second in the black belt battles.

Student Elected Y.R. Director—Or Was He?

Bob Armstrong, SJS Young Republican president, elected area director at the California Young Republican College Federation last week must wait until April 23 to find out if he was elected by the right convention.

Some 150 CYRCF delegates, claiming that the San Diego convention had been canceled, met in Fresno to elect their own slate of officers. On April 23 the state board of the California Young Republicans will decide which convention was legal.

Should the San Diego convention be ruled invalid, Armstrong would lose his office to Mike Shoulder of Foothill College.

"Actually there was no constitutional basis for the Fresno convention since it was not announced 60 days before it was held," Armstrong said.

Other SJS delegates at the convention were Elaine Graves, Al Mason, Bill Pollacek and Bill Scannell.

The San Diego convention elected Alan Bock of UCLA state president while the Fresno group chose Robert O'Donald of the University of California at Berkeley.

Religious Group To Hold Student Workshop Here

SJS Christian Science Organization will sponsor a workshop for students tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the economics lounge of the Home Economics Building, according to Robin Perry, president of the organization.

Robert Stranathan, representative of the First Church of Christ, Scientists in Boston, Mass., will lead the workshop dealing with how Christian Science can assist the college student in his studies and other daily activities, Miss Perry said.

Wahlquist Named To Committee

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, former SJS president and currently professor of education, was named recently to a five-man committee which will meet next Monday to Wednesday to establish a Phi Delta Kappa commission on higher education.

Other committee members include Dr. M. L. Cushman, dean of education at the University of North Dakota; Dr. Wade Arends, professor at the University of Chicago; Dr. John E. King, president of Kansas State College at Emporia; and Dr. J. W. Lee, dean of the graduate school at Mississippi College.

FOOTLOOSE AND LANCY-FREE?

Just at loose ends? There's a big difference, you know.

Like the difference between the guy with a pie-in-the-sky scheme to get rich quick, and the man with a plan for financial security.

Or the difference between a savings plan that's half and hearty as long as you are, and a life insurance program that keeps going strong even when you can't.

Life insurance is one investment you can make today that's guaranteed to take the strife out of life years from now. That might be worth more, from the very beginning, than you put into it. That could be worth as much, at any time, as you planned to put into it in a lifetime. And the sooner you start, the less it costs.

Got some loose ends that need pulling together? We're specialists at it... especially for young people.
